

I think that with todays young youth that we need to take less risk with our cars. I belive that with todays tecnology we can afford to build better cars